ADMISSIONS

General information on the admissions process (bachelor's and master's degree programmes)

For all applicants, the admissions process begins by submitting an electronic or printed application. Applicants may apply for multiple programmes, but they must submit a separate application for each programme they apply to. There is no limit on the number of submitted applications.

If applicants apply via electronic application, they are also obliged to send a printed application to the faculty. The printed application must be filled in, personally signed and include all required enclosures. An electronic application without a printed counterpart received by the admissions office is invalid.

The application must include:

- the applicant's CV
- a notarized copy of the applicant's secondary school leaving examination certificate (applies to applicants for bachelor's programmes who have completed secondary school)
- a notarized copy of the applicant's bachelor's-level state examination diploma (applies to applicants for master's programmes who have completed their bachelor's studies)
- a copy of the proof of payment for the application fee (paid via bank transfer)
- a certificate of fitness from a doctor (applies to physical education programmes)
- specifically required enclosures for the programmes Slovak for the Linguistic and Cultural Competence of International Students and Teaching of Physical Education and Coaching

Applicants for bachelor's programmes who are taking their secondary school leaving examination in the same year as they are applying and are applying for a programme with no entrance examination must deliver a notarized copy of their secondary school leaving examination certificate to the faculty's admissions office by 13 June 2021.

Applicants for master's programmes must deliver, without written notice from the faculty, a notarized copy of their diploma and bachelor's degree state examination certificate to the faculty's admissions office by 15 July 2021.

Applicants who do not present any evidence of meeting the basic admission requirements by the given deadline will be accepted conditionally. Applicants are obliged to present a notarized copy of a secondary school leaving examination certificate (applicants for bachelor's programmes)/a notarized copy of a diploma and bachelor's degree state examination certificate (applicants for master's programmes) by the day of enrolment at the very latest; otherwise they cannot begin their studies.

Applicants who have completed a previous level of education abroad are obliged to prove the recognition of any education certificate obtained outside the Slovak Republic. The admitted applicant is obliged to present proof of recognition for their education certificate no later than the day of enrolment.

The syllabi for entrance examinations, including the extent of the required knowledge, abilities and skills along with a recommended reading list, will be sent by the faculty's admissions office along with the entrance examination invitation.

The results of the entrance examination will be evaluated electronically unless stated otherwise for a specific programme. The results of the entrance examination will be announced on the faculty website.

If an applicant is absent from the entrance examination for serious medical reasons, half the admission fee will be refunded upon the delivery of a written refund request to the faculty's admissions office. The request must be postmarked before the date of the entrance examination (determined by the posting date of the post office). No other reasons for the admission fee refund are considered valid; therefore it is impossible to claim a refund for the remainder of the fee.

Basic admission requirements for bachelor's studies:

- completed secondary-school education or secondary vocational education with a school-leaving certificate
- meeting the requirements of the admission proceedings
- for physical education programmes: a doctor's confirmation of the applicant's fitness for study

Basic admission requirements for master's studies:

- completed bachelor's studies in the field of study which the chosen master's programme proceeds from, or in an interdisciplinary programme that includes such a field of study.
- meeting the requirements of the admission proceedings
- for physical education programmes: a doctor's confirmation of the applicant's fitness for study

Basic admission requirements for foreign students:

- successful passing of the entrance examination
- Slovak language proficiency at the B2 level according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (the only programme with no expectation of Slovak language is Slovak for the Linguistic and Cultural Competence of International Students)
- confirmation of acceptance of the applicant's certificate of education completed abroad at the required level of education (with the exception of certificates from the Czech Republic, for which a confirmation is not needed)

Admission requirements for bachelor's studies

Bachelor's Degree Teaching Programmes

Teaching of English Language and Literature

Entrance examinations for the programme Teaching of English Language and Literature are administered for those programme combinations which receive more applicants than their planned enrolment number.

The written entrance examination is focused on grammar, vocabulary and practical communication skills. Applicants must earn at least a 60% mark on the examination to be accepted. To earn the maximum score for English language proficiency in the admission proceedings (without taking the entrance examination), the applicants must present a certificate obtained by completing at least one of the following examinations:

- Ability testing:
 1. endurance – 1500 m run
 2. dynamic strength – repeated turns around an overhead horizontal bar (men)
– repeated turns around a forehead-high horizontal bar (women)
- Skill testing:
 1. athletics – 50 m run
 2. aerobic gymnastics – individual acrobatic routine with required elements (handstand – forward roll, dive roll from place, backwards back extension roll, cartwheel)
 3. team sport (choice between basketball and volleyball) – evaluation of in-game performance
 4. swimming – 100 m either front crawl or breaststroke, starting jump (any other swimming style is evaluated according to the crawl performance charts)

Bonuses

- A bonus of 60% of the number of points earned in the admission proceedings will only be assigned to students who have participated in the Olympic Games (demonstrated by a certificate from the Slovak Olympic Committee).
- A bonus of 30% of the number of points earned in the admission proceedings will only be assigned to students who have participated in the World Championships or the European Championships (adults or juniors) in Olympic sports according to the categorization of the Ministry of Education, Science, Research and Sports of the Slovak Republic, ranked at least tenth place and present a certificate from the authorized sports federation as proof. The certificate must accompany the printed application form or be presented in person at the entrance examination during registration.
- A bonus of 10% of the number of points obtained in the admission proceedings will only be assigned to students who have participated in the World Championships or the European Championships (adults or juniors) in non-Olympic sports according to the categorization of the Ministry of Education, Science, Research and Sports of the Slovak Republic, ranked at least third place and present a certificate from the authorized sports association as proof. The certificate must accompany the printed application form or be presented in person at the entrance examination during registration.

The bonus will be added to the applicant's overall score after completing the admission aptitude tests, but only up to a maximum total of 100 points.

Applicants who apply for two programmes at the Department of Physical Educations and Sports FA MBU can only undergo the aptitude test once; the results achieved will be taken into consideration in both programmes.

Bachelor's Degree Non-teaching Programmes

Applied Ethnology – no entrance examination

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary school leaving examination.

Ethnology (only as part of interdisciplinary programmes) – no entrance examination

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary school leaving examination.

Philosophy (only as part of interdisciplinary programmes) – no entrance examination

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary school leaving examination.

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary school leaving examination.

Slovak Language and Literature – no entrance examination

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary school leaving examination.

Slovak for the Linguistic and Cultural Competence of International Students – no entrance examination

The programme is aimed at studying Slovak language by foreign students. The basic requirement of admission for the bachelor's programme is a completed secondary school education or vocational education at the equivalent level of the Slovak secondary education system and its requirements. Applications for this programme must include a letter of motivation in English no longer than one standard page. If the applicant does not provide a letter of motivation by the application deadline, their application will be considered invalid. The admissions committee decides the order in which applicants are admitted based on an anonymous evaluation of their letters of motivation.

Bachelor's Degree Translation Programmes:

English Language and Culture

English for Translation in the Commercial Sector (only accredited at the bachelor's level)

Entrance examinations for combination programmes that include English Language and Culture are administered for those programme combinations which receive more applicants than their planned enrolment number.

The written form of entrance examination is focused on grammar, vocabulary, basic knowledge of British and American literature and history, and the cultures and institutions of anglophone countries. To earn the maximum score for English language proficiency in the admission proceedings (without taking the entrance examination), the applicants must present a certificate obtained by completing at least one of the following examinations:

- IELTS – International English Language Testing System – minimum level 6.5
- University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, Certificate in Advanced English
- University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, Certificate of Proficiency in English
- University of Cambridge ESOL Examinations, First Certificate in English – result A
- external part of the secondary school leaving examination from the English language – level B2 minimum of 85% + oral form of the internal portion – result “excellent (A)”
- successful completion of the English language exam as part of National Comparative Exams (NCE). Successful completion of the NCE is defined as a minimum percentile of 85. The applicant need not document the results of the NCE; however, they must include written consent to making their NCE results available to the faculty at www.scio.cz/nsz in their application form.

French Language and Culture – no entrance examination

French language proficiency at the A2 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is a requirement for all translation programmes in French Language and Culture.

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants who present a certificate (notarized copy) demonstrating successful completion of at least one of the following examinations:

- a DELF (B2 level) or DALF (C1 level or higher) French language diploma
- secondary school leaving examination in the French language – B2 level with the result “excellent (A)”
- for graduates from French bilingual schools – the results of the oral and written portion of the secondary school leaving examination with the result “excellent (A)” or “very good (B)”
- first-to-third place at the French Language Olympiad (either in the regional or national round)
- state examination in the French language issued by the State Language School

The faculty reserves the right to select applicants who do not submit the above credentials according to the average mark from their school-leaving examination.

German Language and Culture – no entrance examination

German language proficiency at the B1 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is a requirement for all translation programmes in German Language and Culture.

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary school leaving examination.

Russian Language and Culture – no entrance examination

Russian language proficiency at the A1 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages is a precondition for all translation programmes in Russian Language and Culture.

If the number of applicants exceeds the planned enrolment for the programme, the faculty reserves the right to select applicants according to their averaged results from the secondary school leaving examination.

All study programmes (except for Slovak for the Linguistic and Cultural Competence of International Students) require Slovak language proficiency at the B2 level or higher according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
